Furthermore, the offence for which accused/petitioners are charged does not fall within the ambit of prohibitory clause of Section 497 Cr. P.C. In such like cases grant of bail is a rule and refusal an exception. No extra ordinary circumstances are available on record for refusing bail of accused/petitioners. There is no criminal history of present accused/petitioners as per available record. Accused/petitioners have not confessed their guilt before the court.

Moreover, co-accused granted bail in the instant case, hence, rule of consistency also been extended to the present accused/petitioners.

Investigation has already been completed and accused/petitioners are no more required to the local police for investigation and no useful purpose would be served by keeping the accused/petitioner behind the bar.

In light of above discussion, instant bail petition is hereby accepted. Petitioners be released on bail subject to furnishing bail bonds in the sum of Rs. 50,000/- (Fifty thousand) with two sureties each in the like amount to the satisfaction of this court. Copy of this order be placed on police as well as judicial record. The requisitioned record be sent back to the quarter concerned forthwith, while file
